

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES ON SUSTAINABLE TOURISM FOR DEVELOPMENT ORGANIZED BY OSI

In the framework of the International Year of Sustainable Tourism for Development 2017, the OSI NGO Objectif Sciences International is organizing the 9th Geneva Forum, a one-week high-level meeting from 11 to 15 December 2017 at United Nations Organization, Geneva (Switzerland).

Leading projects of Education to Science and Citizen Sciences since 1992, OSI have the Special Consultative Status to United Nations and organizes every year, since 2012, the International Annual Conference on Rights of Nature in United Nations. From 2016, and every year, OSI organizes the International Annual Conference on Tourism and Travel for Sustainable Development, in order to allow all the actors and operators in these domains to exchange, meet and share directly and at the largest international level.

At the 2017 Forum have already subscribed participants from national and regional parks, experiences and experts in marine sciences, oceans, climate, energies, fundamental physics, biology coming from Germany, UK, USA, Tunisia, Togo, Spain, Iceland, China, Guinea, Congo RDC, Morocco, France and Switzerland.

In particular the Forum includes the following conferences of interest to the territorial actors involved in promoting sustainable tourism for development.

- 2nd Annual International Conference on Participatory Research, Citizen Sciences and Fab Labs for Peace and Development (12 and 13 December 2017). The conference is organized in partnership with ECSA (European Citizen Science Association) and includes several presentations about Science Travels for Environment and Sustainable Tourism.
- 4th International Annual Conference on Pedagogy, Travel and Tourism for Peace and Development (13-14 December 2017). The conference deals with topics of interest such as: Tourism as a social agent (poverty reduction, peace maker); Tourism: a tool for Science Development; Sharing Economy and Tourism; New types of Sustainable Tourism.

In the websites of the conferences an interesting presentation of the experiences attending the meeting and the registration forms to participate is available.

To know more and participate

OSI Geneva Forum website

Objectif Sciences International in Facebook

2017 International Year for Sustainable Tourism

