

THE ASHDEN ORGANIZATION PRESENTS THE FINALISTS FOR THE 2021 AWARDS

In April 2021 the Ashden organization announced the longlist of the finalists for the 2021 Ashden International Awards: 25 outstanding climate solutions that are tackling the climate crisis with practical action. These solutions are ongoing in Uganda, India, Kenya, Democratic Republic of Congo, South-Sudan and Somalia, Ecuador, Central and Eastern Africa, Brazil, The Netherlands, Senegal and Pakistan. The longlist of 12 outstanding climate solutions for the United Kingdom Ashden Award 2021 has also been announced.

The Ashden Awards are inspired by the objectives of the Paris Agreement and the UN's 2030 Sustainable Development Goals and recognize organizations that are cutting carbon emissions, while creating better lives and fairer societies. Winners are rewarded for their originality and impact. Since 2001, Ashden has awarded more than 236 ground-breaking organizations.

Based in the United Kingdom, since 2001 the Ashden Organization has been promoting universal access to sustainable energy, supporting projects around the world. In the UK Ashden promotes local sustainable energy and a shift to a low carbon economy bringing green jobs, energy security, lower fuel bills and reduced fuel poverty.

The finalists of the 2021 International Awards edition embrace a diverse range of solutions in areas including energy access, natural climate solutions, regenerative agriculture, and cooling in informal settlements.

The 25 finalists of the International Award are presented by Ashden by giving access to their respective websites. Waiting to know the final winners, this initiative of the award allows to know all the organizations involved and to appreciate the innovative solutions implemented. At the same time, it offers an overview of the wealth of practices underway around the world that make a contribution towards a systemic change in climate action and that can be replicated at scale and in other contexts.

In total, more than 800 organizations have applied for the 2021 edition of the Ashden Awards. Winners will be announced in November 2021 after a judging process involving on-the-ground visits and input from sector experts. Winners will receive a cash prize, development support, and the chance to connect with investors and leading figures in the energy and climate sectors.
